TECHNICAL COLLEGE SYSTEM

INS
4025
A → This bill provides property tax relief aid to technical college districts, distributed annually to each district on the basis of its equalized value as compared to the equalized value of all technical college districts as of January 2014. The first distribution is in February 2015.

The bill eliminates the current limit on a technical college district's tax levy and imposes, instead, a revenue limit. Under the bill, with certain exceptions, a district board's revenue (defined as the sum of its tax levy for operations and the amount of property tax relief aid it receives) in the 2014-15 school year or any school year thereafter may not exceed its revenue in the previous school year increased by the district's valuation factor, which is the percentage change in the district's equalized value due to new construction, less improvements removed.

BILL

1 subtracted from state aid payments in the following years until the total amount of
2 the excess levy revenue is subtracted from the state aid payments.

3 SECTION 15. 38.16 (3) (d) of the statutes is amended to read:

4 38.16 (3) (d) The department may issue a finding that a district board is not
5 liable for a penalty that would otherwise be imposed under par. (c) if the department
6 determines that the district board's excess levy revenue is caused by one of the 7 following clerical errors:

8 1. The department, through mistake or inadvertence, has assessed to any 9 county or taxation district, in the current year or in the previous year, a greater or
10 lesser valuation for any year than should have been assessed, causing the district
11 board's levy to be erroneous in a way that directly causes an excess levy revenue.

12 2. A taxation district clerk or a county clerk, through mistake or inadvertence
13 in preparing or delivering the tax roll, causes a district board's levy to be erroneous
14 in a way that directly causes an excess levy revenue.

15 SECTION 16. 38.16 (4) of the statutes is created to read:

16 38.16 (4) On February 20, 2015, and annually thereafter on the 3rd Friday of
17 February, the board shall distribute to each district board, from the appropriation
18 under s. 20.292 (1) (dp), the amount determined as follows:

19 (a) For the payment in 2015, divide the district's equalized value as of January
20 1, 2014, by the total equalized value of all districts as of January 1, 2014, and 21 multiply the quotient by $406,000,000.

22 (b) For the payment in 2016 and annually thereafter, the amount determined
23 under par. (a).

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RATES

Under current law, there are four income tax brackets for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons. The brackets are indexed for inflation. The rate of taxation under current law for the lowest bracket for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons is 4.40 percent of taxable income; the rate for the second bracket is 5.84 percent; the rate for the third bracket is 6.27 percent; and the rate for the highest bracket is 7.65 percent. Before applying bracket indexing, the four brackets for individuals, certain fiduciaries, and heads of households, to which the above rates apply, are as follows: taxable income from $0 to $7,500; taxable income exceeding $7,500 but not exceeding $15,000; taxable income exceeding $15,000 but not exceeding $225,000; and taxable income exceeding $225,000.

This rate and bracket structure first applies to taxable year 2013, and was enacted in 2013 Wisconsin Act 20, the state budget bill.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013, this bill lowers the rate of taxation for the lowest tax bracket. Under the bill, the rate of taxation for the lowest bracket for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons is 4.0 percent of taxable income.

TECHNICAL COLLEGE SYSTEM

This bill provides property tax relief aid to technical college districts, distributed annually to each district on the basis of its equalized value as compared to the equalized value of all technical college districts as of January 2014. The first distribution is in February 2015.

The bill eliminates the current limit on a technical college district's tax levy and imposes, instead, a revenue limit. Under the bill, with certain exceptions, a district board's revenue (defined as the sum of its tax levy for operations and the amount of property tax relief aid it receives) in the 2014-15 school year or any school year thereafter may not exceed its revenue in the previous school year increased by the district's valuation factor, which is the percentage change in the district's equalized value due to new construction, less improvements removed.

NET OPERATING LOSSES

Under current law, for income tax purposes, under certain circumstances, a taxpayer may claim a Wisconsin net operating loss against Wisconsin taxable income of the two years preceding the year in which the taxpayer sustained the loss. This bill clarifies that a taxpayer need not make an offset against Wisconsin modified taxable income of the two years preceding the loss, if the taxpayer chooses not to carry back the net operating loss to the two years preceding the loss.

TAX CREDITS

Under current law, a person may claim the jobs tax credit if the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation certifies the person to receive the tax credit, the person increases net employment in the person's business, and the person provides certain wages or job training to its full-time employees. This bill specifies that to be eligible for the jobs tax credit a person must increase net employment in the person's business in this state. Therefore, under the bill, a person may qualify for the jobs tax credit by relocating existing jobs to this state even if the number of individuals the person's business employs nationwide does not increase. Similarly, under the bill, a person does not qualify for the jobs tax credit by increasing the number of individuals the person's business employs nationwide if the number of individuals the person's business employs in this state does not increase.

Under current law, for income and franchise tax purposes, a taxpayer may not claim a relocated business deduction or tax credit for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013. Under this bill, a taxpayer who is first eligible to claim a relocated business deduction or tax credit for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 2012, and before January 1, 2014, may claim the deduction or credit in the following taxable year.

The bill also provides that the manufacturing and agriculture credit, the research credit, and the state historic rehabilitation credit may be claimed against the alternative minimum tax.

Finally, the bill makes technical changes to the electronic medical records tax credit and to the sales and use tax exemption for tangible personal property used in commercial printing.

→ For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RATES

Under current law, there are four income tax brackets for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons. The brackets are indexed for inflation. The rate of taxation under current law for the lowest bracket for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons is 4.40 percent of taxable income; the rate for the second bracket is 5.84 percent; the rate for the third bracket is 6.27 percent; and the rate for the highest bracket is 7.65 percent. Before applying bracket indexing, the four brackets for individuals, certain fiduciaries, and heads of households, to which the above rates apply, are as follows: taxable income from $0 to $7,500; taxable income exceeding $7,500 but not exceeding $15,000; taxable income exceeding $15,000 but not exceeding $225,000; and taxable income exceeding $225,000.

This rate and bracket structure first applies to taxable year 2013, and was enacted in 2013 Wisconsin Act 20, the state budget bill.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013, this bill lowers the rate of taxation for the lowest tax bracket. Under the bill, the rate of taxation for the lowest bracket for single individuals, certain fiduciaries, heads of households, and married persons is 4.0 percent of taxable income.

TECHNICAL COLLEGE SYSTEM

This bill provides property tax relief aid to technical college districts, distributed annually to each district on the basis of its equalized value as compared to the equalized value of all technical college districts as of January 2014. The first distribution is in February 2015.

The bill eliminates the current limit on a technical college district's tax levy and imposes, instead, a revenue limit. Under the bill, with certain exceptions, a district board's revenue (defined as the sum of its tax levy for operations and the amount of property tax relief aid it receives) in the 2014-15 school year or any school year thereafter may not exceed its revenue in the previous school year increased by the district's valuation factor, which is the percentage change in the district's equalized value due to new construction, less improvements removed.

NET OPERATING LOSSES

Under current law, for income tax purposes, under certain circumstances, a taxpayer may claim a Wisconsin net operating loss against Wisconsin taxable income of the two years preceding the year in which the taxpayer sustained the loss. This bill clarifies that a taxpayer need not make an offset against Wisconsin modified taxable income of the two years preceding the loss, if the taxpayer chooses not to carry back the net operating loss to the two years preceding the loss.

TAX CREDITS

Under current law, a person may claim the jobs tax credit if the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation certifies the person to receive the tax credit, the person increases net employment in the person's business, and the person provides certain wages or job training to its full-time employees. This bill specifies that to be eligible for the jobs tax credit a person must increase net employment in the person's business in this state. Therefore, under the bill, a person may qualify for the jobs tax credit by relocating existing jobs to this state even if the number of individuals the person's business employs nationwide does not increase. Similarly, under the bill, a person does not qualify for the jobs tax credit by increasing the number of individuals the person's business employs nationwide if the number of individuals the person's business employs in this state does not increase.

Under current law, for income and franchise tax purposes, a taxpayer may not claim a relocated business deduction or tax credit for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2013. Under this bill, a taxpayer who is first eligible to claim a relocated business deduction or tax credit for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 2012, and before January 1, 2014, may claim the deduction or credit in the following taxable year.

The bill also provides that the manufacturing and agriculture credit, the research credit, and the state historic rehabilitation credit may be claimed against the alternative minimum tax.

Finally, the bill makes technical changes to the electronic medical records tax credit and to the sales and use tax exemption for tangible personal property used in commercial printing.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
